RABBI'S CORNER

Shabbat Zachor is the second of four special Shabbatot before Pesach. Its name comes from the special Maftir portion we read, Deuteronomy 25:17-19. That portion recalls the battle against Amalek who cowardly attacked Israel as they traveled through the wilderness. We are commanded to blot out the name of Amalek from history.

To fulfill this commandment we read once a year the Amalek passage publicly from the Torah. It always happens the Shabbat before the Festival of Purim. The reason is that Haman, the villain of Megillah Ester, is a descendant of Amalek. We blot out the name of Amalek to add to the practice of rejecting Haman's treatment of the Jews of Persia.
